BAKERY DRAGON

Choose-Your-Own Storytime

Start Your Quest

The first step of any good quest is to get to know your fellow adventurers. Start your storytime by asking your attendees about their favorite things. Do they collect toys? Stuffed animals? BOOKS? Share an example of your favorite things and talk about how what we collect is important to us.

During Your Adventure

Throughout your storytime, take a moment to pause and ask your listeners what they think about Ember's quest to get his own hoard. Should he be mean like the other dragons? Why is making his hoard better than stealing it? How do they feel about him sharing his hoard with his friends after working so hard to get it?

At Journey's End

Now that your storytime is over, choose your next adventure from the options below.

Practice Your Roar

Even the biggest, mightiest dragons had to practice their roars when they were young.
Practice your short and quiet and long and loud roars using the patterns below.

Short/quiet: roar roar roar roar

Long/loud: ROOOOAAAAR

roar roar roar roar

ROOOOAAAAR ROOOOAAAAR

Build Your Own Hoard

Draw a picture of what your treasure trove would look like. Treasure doesn't only have to be gold. It can be anything that you find valuable; maybe your trove would be filled with toys, pets, or even books!
